

Important Information from National Australia Bank Limited (NAB)

Last Modified: 9 November 2023

National Australia Bank Limited (ABN 12 004 044 937, AFSL and Australian Credit Licence 230686) ("NAB") is the credit provider and issuer of credit cards under the Card Services brand. NAB has acquired the business relating to this product from Citigroup Pty Ltd (ABN 88 004 325 080, AFSL and Australian Credit Licence 238098) ("Citi") and has appointed Citi to assist to administer the product. Our/us/we means NAB unless the context otherwise requires it.

These terms and conditions ("Terms and Conditions") are an agreement between you and National Australia Bank Limited (NAB) ("we", "us" or "our") that governs your access to and use of your eligible Card Services Credit Cards(s) ("Credit Card(s)", "Card", or "Cards") linked to accounts ("Accounts(s)") domiciled in Australia through Google Pay. The term, "Google Pay", shall include the Google Pay branded payment functionality, the Card provisioning functionality, and display of transaction history. We will determine which Card product may be eligible for use through Google Pay.

Please review these Terms and Conditions before you decide whether to accept them and continue with the enrolment of your Cards to Google Pay.

By registering or using a Card through Google Pay you agree to use your Card through Google Pay in accordance with these Terms and Conditions. If you do not agree to these Terms and Conditions, then you must not register your Card to, or use your Card in connection with, Google Pay. Use of Google Pay is at your discretion. You are not obliged to use Google Pay in connection with any of your Cards.

Your use of Google Pay to purchase goods and services with your Card is governed by the applicable terms and conditions between you and us in connection with each Account. The applicable terms and conditions to your Card and/or Accounts with us ("Account Terms and Conditions") are incorporated by reference as part of these Terms and Conditions. You also acknowledge that your use of Google Pay is subject to the terms and conditions set forth by Google Pay and/or its affiliates ("Google") with respect to the use of Google Pay, which will not change or override these Terms and Conditions.

EXERCISING OUR DISCRETION AND RIGHTS

We will exercise our rights and discretions that we have under these Terms and Conditions fairly and reasonably in the same way that we exercise our rights and discretions under the Account Terms and Conditions.

ELIGIBILITY/ENROLMENT

Google Pay is available to cardholders for the purposes of purchasing goods and services with a compatible Android mobile device that contains a secure element (Eligible Device):

- (1) near field communication (NFC) enabled merchants; and
- (2) an online merchant (whether in-app or through website), who accept Google Pay as a form of payment.

Google Pay allows you to use your Eligible Device to access and use your Cards to make such purchases in place of presenting or using your physical Card. To add your Card to Google Pay, you must register your Card through Google Pay. You may be required to take additional steps to authenticate yourself before your Card is added to Google Pay, including providing the correct Online Authorisation Code (OAC) which will be sent to you by us via SMS on your registered mobile number with us (Additional Authentication). By adding your Card to Google Pay, a unique numerical identifier different from your Card number (Token) will be allocated for the purpose of making purchases and receiving refunds through Google Pay. If your physical Card is renewed or replaced close to expiration date or where you have reported it as damaged, your Token in Google Pay will be automatically updated with the new Card information. Accordingly, you agree that your Token (which has been updated with the new Card information) can continue to be used to make transactions through Google Pay even without activating your renewed/replaced physical card and you will be fully liable for these transactions. Due to the manner in which Google Pay operates, you may need to present your Eligible Device at a merchant when you return an item purchased using Google Pay on such Eligible Device. We have the discretion to approve or reject the addition of any Card to Google Pay and need not give you any reason for our approval or rejection.

Your enrolment will be declined if the Card is not eligible for this service, you failed the authentication process, or if your Card or underlying Account is not in good standing or conducted in a proper or satisfactory manner as determined by us at our discretion, acting reasonably. For example, your enrolment may be declined where you have an unremedied default relating to the underlying Account, where we consider we need to do so to prevent the risk of fraud, or your Account has been suspended or closed. Google Pay may limit the number of Cards that you may store in one Eligible Device from time to time which we cannot control. We may, however, limit the number of Eligible Devices in which the same Card can be stored from time to time and you should refer to our latest communications regarding such limit.

For a Credit Card which has additional cards, such additional cards shall be regarded as separate Credit Cards, and Google Pay Card Registration and Additional Authentication shall apply when additional cardholders wish to enrol their additional Credit Cards with Google Pay.

Other Important Information:

- Only one watch can be paired to one mobile and one mobile to one watch at a time.
- Customers who have recently changed their mobile numbers will not be allowed to enrol for Google Pay during the mobile number embargo period of three (3) business days.
- If you register from a phone number that is different from the one on our records, additional authentication will be required, and an OAC will be invoked to the customer's mobile number that is registered with us.

Additional Cardholders

Additional cardholders are able to register their Card for Google Pay.

An additional cardholder can set up and use Google Pay even if Google Pay is not used by the primary cardholder. An additional cardholder can register for Google Pay before the primary cardholder does. The primary cardholder will only be able to remove an additional cardholder's access to Google Pay by removing the additional cardholder from the account altogether. If you wish to remove the additional cardholder, please visit cardservicesdirect.com.au/contactus or call us on 1300 135 538.

YOUR USE OF CARDS THROUGH GOOGLE PAY

Purchases you make with Google Pay using your credit Card(s) are governed by the "Account Terms and Conditions". Please review the Account Terms and Conditions for important information on your rights and responsibilities when making purchases. You must keep your Eligible Device safe (including ensuring that the device is not modified contrary to the software or hardware guidelines of the manufacturer) and ensure that where your passcode or personal identification number is required to allow you to use your Eligible Device to access and use your Cards to make purchases for Google Pay, your passcode or personal identification number is not disclosed to any one and you must take all reasonable steps to prevent any fraud, loss or theft in respect of the Eligible Device or any Card in connection with the use of Google Pay. If biometric details may be used to identify you or be used to grant access to the Eligible Device to access and use your Cards, you must not save a third party's biometrics such as fingerprint (biometric information) on the Eligible Device. In the event a third party's biometrics is saved on the Eligible Device, whether now or in the future, and such biometric details can be used to grant access to the Eligible Device to access and use your Cards, you acknowledge that such person, using his or her biometrics, will be able to access and use your Cards and make Purchases with Google Pay using your Cards.

If you enrol for biometric verification such as fingerprint identity, personal identification number or passcode on Google Pay, the collection, storage, enrolment and access to Google Pay using your biometric information, personal identification number or passcode will be made using the technology on your Eligible Device. Accordingly, when you log into Google Pay and choose to be verified using the technology on your Eligible Device, your fingerprint or any other biometric information, personal identification number or passcode will be matched and verified against your Eligible Device's technology. You acknowledge that we have no control over the technology on the Eligible Device, the availability, capability, verification method, security and integrity of the Eligible Device and cannot be held responsible for transactions effected using Google Pay and authorised using any biometric information or personal identification number or passcode, subject to requirements of law and if applicable, the ePayments Code, and except to the extent such transaction is caused by our fraud, negligence or misconduct. You should therefore assess if the Eligible Device's manner of verification and risks associated with such use is acceptable to you.

Use of Google Pay is at your discretion. You are not obliged to use Google Pay in connection with any of your Cards. Accordingly, you agree that the access and use of your Cards on Google Pay will be considered as authorised by you and you shall be responsible and liable for the same, subject to requirements of law and if applicable, the ePayments Code, and except to the extent such transaction is caused by our fraud, negligence or misconduct. If your Eligible Device is lost or stolen, any biometric information or personal identification number or other passcode is compromised or used or Card has been used through Google Pay without your permission, we recommend that you notify us promptly. If you fail to notify us promptly, you may be liable for part or all of the losses in connection with any unauthorised use of your Card in connection with Google Pay as further set out in the Account Terms and Conditions.

You agree and acknowledge that the transaction history displayed in Google Pay in connection with the use of your Card in Google Pay solely represents our authorisation of your Google Pay transaction using that particular Eligible Device and does not reflect any post-authorisation activity, including but not limited to clearing, settlement, foreign currency exchange, reversals, returns or chargebacks. Accordingly, the purchase amount, currency, and other details for your Google Pay transaction history in connection with the use of your Card in Google Pay may not match the transaction amount that is ultimately cleared, settled, and posted to your Card statement of account. You will remain liable to us for the amounts set out on your statements.

We currently do not impose a fee for using your Card through Google Pay but we reserve the right to impose a fee in the future. If we do so, we will provide you with 30 days prior written notice as detailed in the 'CHANGES TO PARTICIPATION IN THE GOOGLE PAY AND TERMS AND CONDITIONS' section below. Your telecommunications carrier or provider may impose web-enablement, data usage or text messaging fees or other charges for your use of Google Pay.

As a condition to using your Card in connection with Google Pay, you acknowledge and consent to us sending notifications to the Eligible Device which may or may not be the same device as your mobile phone number on record with us. If at any time you revoke this consent, we may suspend or cancel your ability to use your Cards in connection with Google Pay (for example, we may do so where we reasonably believe that such action is necessary to prevent a fraud affecting any person or to prevent you or us from any loss).

Devices modified contrary to the software or hardware guidelines of a manufacturer, including by disabling hardware or software controls, sometimes referred to as jailbreaking are not Eligible Devices. You acknowledge that the use of a modified device to use your Card in connection with Google Pay is expressly prohibited, constitutes a violation of these Terms and Conditions, and is grounds for us to deny your access to your Cards through Google Pay.

Subject to the section titled 'EXERCISING OUR DISCRETION AND RIGHTS', we have the right to suspend or cancel your ability to use your Cards in connection with Google Pay at any time and need not give you any prior notice or reason for doing so, but will notify you as soon as reasonably practicable. For example, we may do so where we reasonably believe that such action is necessary to prevent a fraud affecting any person or to prevent you or us from any loss.

We have the right to impose a limit on the transaction amount charged to your Card through Google Pay. The limit will be such amount as determined by us and notified to you, in accordance with the section titled 'CHANGES TO PARTICIPATION IN GOOGLE PAY AND TERMS AND CONDITIONS' below.
